

Alexandria Gazette

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 16, 1878.

BAPTISM OF A MOHAMMEDAN.—The baptism of a Mohammedan, a man of Egyptian means, and twenty-three years of age, a certain Mustapha Lessi, took place on Easter Sunday, at four o'clock in the afternoon, at the Church of St. Thomas, Liberty of the Rolls. The Rev. L. B. White performed the ceremony; the Revs. J. H. Moran and Passalenti, and several English ladies, being present as witnesses. The officiating clergyman, witnesses, and assistants were much moved by this great event. They then left the church and went to the school room, where the Italians were gathered in a large number, to hear the Gospel and to worship God. Easter Sunday will be a memorable day, and it is hoped the blessing will continue.

THE HERESY TRIALS IN SCOTLAND.—In the case of the Rev. Fergus Ferguson the Glasgow U. P. Presbytery has declared the first count of the libel relevant. The session was long and stormy, some of the members forgetting their ministerial dignity, and in one instance proceeding to blows. Concerning Professor Robertson Smith the Aberdeen Free Church Presbytery has taken up the third and final charge and declared it irrelevant. So far, then, as the action of the Presbytery and Synod goes the professor has been vindicated. It only remains for the General Assembly to review his case, and this will hardly be more than a matter of form. Possibly, however, proceedings may yet be taken in the Presbytery, in view of the "deep offense and wide uncharitableness" caused by his writings, to "admonish" Mr. Smith.

DANCING IN A CATHEDRAL, SPAIN.—It is a curious and exhilarating spectacle in the cathedral of Seville, during the celebration of mass, to see a number of boys, in cocked hats, knee breeches and silk stockings, gravely dancing a minuet before the altar. It is even more curious to find that the custom is one of the gravest antiquity. More than a thousand years ago, when the Arabs captured the city and invaded the cathedral, some young men, by dancing gravely and slowly forward, held their attention while the canons, laden with treasures escaped at the back of the church. And in commemoration of this artifice, ever since the cathedral came again into Christian hands, the dance had been a feature of the service.

EDUCATION IN RUSSIA.—Education in Russia is found to stand thus—five men in every six are absolutely unable to read or write. In the two chief cities the proportion is not quite so shocking. St. Petersburg comprises 670,000 inhabitants. There are no fewer than 370,000 persons over seven years of age in the capital city who cannot read or write. At Moscow, the second city in importance, the proportion is about the same. Only fourteen primary schools exist in St. Petersburg, and only one school where females are taught. —Fire-side.
